

Rules of the Game and the Truth of Awakening

Who or what are the "Powers that Be?" We most often hear that term in reference to a power that is outside of us and greater than us in its ability to influence or control our lives. What follows is a very simplified discussion of what actually are the powers that be, what the rules of their game are and why they are afraid of the masses awakening.

The Powers that Be (PtB):

These "forces" can be described as two separate ideas which are in truth just one. The external manifestation of the PtB can be identified with the names or ideas such as the Illuminati, the Bilderberg Group, the Elite or any other name which is meant to describe the very few who are controlling the very many.

The internal manifestation of the PtB can be identified as anything that is perceived to control the mind and body without our consent. Ideas such as addiction, anxiety, depression, illness, poverty, fear or relationship struggles are all examples of the personal or internal idea of the PtB.

The Rules of the Game:

The rules of the game we call life, existence or creation are the same for those who live on Earth, as they are for the entire Universe and all its dimensions. They can be identified as Universal Laws or Truth, but are understood by the fact that they are absolute and without exception. These are the Laws we are both controlled by and can find our freedom in.

The laws of this world or our mind (as ego) and body within it are not absolute or without exception. This the PtB understand and most of humanity does not. We do not understand it because most of humanity uses their five senses and what they perceive to collect their data and make decisions based on this information.

Any information perceived through the five senses is only a feedback mechanism of what has already been created and is therefore only a reflection of what is in the past.

True creation operates by the Universal Law of Cause and Effect. The physical material of this world and the physical actions we take here are only effects. True change cannot occur at the level of effect, but only at the level of Cause.

The level of Cause is one of Thought. We understand this idea in the scientific community as vibration and in the spiritual community as prayer or belief. The common trait they share is that it is non-physical and therefore not subject to time, space or distance.

The two most basic Universal Laws that will provide the greatest benefit from learning immediately are:

The Law of Love: What I give to another, I give to my Self.
The Law of Seeing: I will see that which I feel within.

The definition of the word "give" in this context is to think, feel, judge, condemn, observe, criticize, blame or anything that you choose to believe about another. This are the basis of the thought/vibration from which we become the Cause that creates the effects in our own lives that we both want and do not want. For example, if we deny freedom to another, we will then in turn be denied our own freedom (though it may not be in the same form). Our anger at the external PtB only strengthens them as Cause to create negatively in our lives.

We as humanity for the most part have no control or management over our thoughts or feelings. We are reactive to the perceptions of our five senses and are therefore creating based on what is often misinformation.

To learn to create based on Truth and as Cause, we must each be capable of stilling our minds and choosing thoughts and emotions purposefully and selectively, regardless of what our five senses tell us. Cause occurs before effect and therefore it takes time before the new thoughts will be evidenced by our five senses as effects.

The Truth of Awakening:

The reason that the PtB fear the masses awakening to the true Rules of the Game is that when we are no longer manipulated by the data our five senses perceive, we can begin to control our lives 100%.

These same Laws apply to the internal PtB and as we use them we can be free of illness, addiction, pain and suffering.

The Truth of this Universe is that we are all Free, now. The ability to control or manipulate us individually or in groups is only possible by our own denial of our choices, power and beliefs. Awakening is not creating new effects, it is only the allowing of what our True Nature is now.

It is the same idea that we can only live in a prison if we believe that the key we hold in our hand won't work because we've never tried it but were told it was a trap if we unlocked the door and left.

The Awakening of Truth does not come from our actions, but from changing who and what we believe is the Cause of the Effects in our physical lives. The Truth is we are the ONLY intelligence, energy, being or source of creation within our own lives. We have been told that something that is outside of us can have power over us. This is the illusion that we have been manipulated with in the last several thousand years.

Summary:

This is a VERY brief and incomplete discussion of these ideas, but it is an attempt to clarify some of the most basic concepts that each of us is being asked to examine and decide what to do next.

The most important idea I want to convey is that each of us holds all the power in this Universe to be Free, now and forever. The events of this world are being designed to guide us more quickly to this choice, though it is not mandatory we make it now.

This is not a war that will be won by our actions, but rather by our intentions. To give power to the idea of war will only make it real in your own experience. The most important question you can ask your self is what do you want for you?
